Perceiving Light & Space the Kahn way

One of 20th Century's most influential architects - Louis Kahn would have turned 112 yesterday. Known for unabashed honesty in his use of material and credited with creating a 'poetry of light' in his works, here is proof that his legacy lives on.

This week's collection is of projects which have been admittedly or subconsciously influenced by his style of creating spaces. Click on the collage below to access the entire collection:
