ANTONINO CARDILLO

In 1963, Antonino Cardillo considered one of the most important Architect of our era. After going to Rome and study Classical architecture, he developed significant architectural works such as a museum in Rome and a connection with fashion. As the designer of Sergio Rossi in Italy, Antonino's vision has been showcased in museums worldwide such as V&A Museum in London.

"Light is architecture. It is an event." - Robert Wilson

Interviewed by Zanini Ivan
Photography by Elmar Vincelli